Choose your Transfer Pricing Advisor Due to tremendous changes in the global economy scene, the importance of being able to demonstrate defensible tax policies is highlighted by tax advisors around the world. The taxes paid by MNEs are under scrutiny and governments are seeking ways to increase revenues. Specific disclosures are required by taxpayers engaged in intra-group trade around the world. So every taxpayer should be prepared!

Choose the best alternative The arm's length principle is based on the notion that when independent parties estimate the option to enter in a transaction, unavoidably they will evaluate also other options realistically available to them and they will only enter in the transaction if no other alternative is more attractive than the first one. Make a realistic choice!

Design your Transfer Pricing Policy A large number of multinational enterprises have the flexibility to locate their activities anywhere in the world. The increased volume and variety of intercompany transactions, accompanied by increased enforcement activities worldwide have made transfer pricing issues an important challenge for Tax Authorities across the globe. Taxpayers should be in a position to defend their transfer pricing strategy and consider both the tax benefits they can capitalize on, as well as the overall design of their transfer pricing policy to limit their potential tax exposure.

How Eurofast addresses Transfer Pricing Risks? Quality is our first priority. Eurofast's team of highly skilled professionals in each country works together with the client "back to back". We have centralised our work through Eurofast fully fledged offices in Southeast Europe and the Eastern Mediterranean, as well as, with associates worldwide including Taxand members in Romania, Greece and the other countries the organization covers.
